Announcement “Kinan Chemistry Session”

The Kinan Art Week Executive Committee is pleased to announce the launch of the Kinan Chemistry Session in March, an online talk session with variety of experts prior to the Kinan Art Week 2021, scheduled for autumn 2021.

The first session will be an online talk session (free of charge) between the project's General Producer, Mr. Yabumoto Yabumoto, and the artistic director, Mr. Miyatsu Daisuke, on the theme "Why “Kinan Art Week”?”

How will the chemistry between the attractions of the Kinan region and contemporary art occur? Through a dialogue between two persons with deep knowledge of local history and culture as well as contemporary art, we will explore the nature of the region's power and the potential of art. We would be grateful if you could help us to spread this session.
